Take pride in your town

Luton is changing and fast becoming a town with exciting opportunities and endless investment potential. A range of improvements are taking place that are revitalising and regenerating the town centre, and creating welcoming and attractive areas for the people who live, work and shop here.

It's a town we should all be proud of - but we need you to play your part!

Council cleans up at national awards

The Council's street cleansing team recently scooped the top 'Keep Britain Tidy' national award for the excellent service they provide and the enormous pride they take in our town.

The more frequently the road is used, the more often it will be swept. However, if an area becomes unacceptably messy the team will clean it up as soon as possible.

To report street litter
call 01582 510333, Mon-Fri, 8am-6pm, except Wed, 10am-6pm.

YOU can help by:

- being tidy with your litter and chewing gum
- using the free refuse tips
- having waste collection contracts for your business
- not leaving your dog's mess for others
- not 'flyposting' - it's untidy and illegal
- not parking where you want us to clean.

How can you help?

Flytipping, litter, abandoned cars and dog mess undo all the good work; and residents who do this are damaging and spoiling the environment for the whole community. The cost of cleaning up rubbish and mess is met by council tax payers, so it is in all our interests to ensure that Luton is kept clean and safe.

The Council provides various services and facilities to dispose of all rubbish correctly and easily including:

- weekly refuse collections
- two household waste recycling centres at Progress Way and Eaton Green Road
- a home collection service (for a small fee)
- recycling facilities
- free removal of unwanted vehicles.

For more information about how to dispose of your waste visit www.luton.gov.uk/environment

LUTON
BOROUGH COUNCIL

Keep them off the street

Abandoned vehicles are a real eyesore and expensive to remove. If your car has reached the end of the road don't dump it, call the Council which provides a FREE removal service for Luton residents' unwanted vehicles and will ensure it is destroyed and recycled correctly.

The Council can seize untaxed vehicles and the owner will be liable to pay:

- an impound fee of up to £100 up to 24 hours and £200 thereafter
- a £21 per day storage fee
- a fee of £160 if the vehicle is released without tax.

If you believe that a vehicle has been abandoned, and has been left for some time, contact the Council's customer services team on 01582 510333.

You can check if a vehicle has a road tax by visiting www.vehicleenquiry.service.gov.uk. You can report untaxed vehicles to the Council at www.luton.gov.uk

A little help from our friends

Local people play a valuable part in helping to clean and improve our environment. The Council regularly works with groups of volunteers who give their time to work with our cleansing team to tidy and clean areas that are heavily littered or prone to flytipping. The Council also works in partnership with Keep Britain Tidy on projects to keep the environment clean.

If you would like to join them, and can spare a few hours, we would be delighted to work with you. To join the volunteering team contact volunteering@luton.gov.uk

Don't dump it!

Disposing of household waste correctly plays a big part in ensuring our streets are clean and safe. Unfortunately some people think it is OK to leave big items of household rubbish in the streets and public areas. Apart from being unsightly these create dangerous obstacles and encourage vermin, which carries serious health risks. It is also a crime and residents that do this risk a fixed penalty notice or prosecution.

If you run out of space in your black bin don't just leave rubbish alongside it – this is also considered to be flytipping and is breaking the law.

To get more out of your black bin:

- recycle correctly using your green bin
- flatten your rubbish to make more room.

If you have large household items or white goods these can be taken free of charge to one of the Council's household waste recycling centres or contact the home collection service who will take them away for you for a small fee. Call 01582 510333.

Keeping the paths clear

A big thank you to residents who remove their bins from paths after collection. This makes a big difference to all pedestrians but especially those with young children or disabilities. It allows them to easily push a buggy or a wheelchair along the pathways. There is a small minority who don't remove their bins – please don't be one of them.

Let them eat jam

Mum says school meal substitute is totally crackers

BY CARL MUNGAZI

carlmungazi@lutononsunday.co.uk

THE council has launched an investigation after a year six pupil was only given jam and crackers at lunch because his account was £11.70 in the red.

Colette Woodcraft, from Bramingham, has said it is 'outrageous' that kitchen staff at Mead Primary School fed her son, Hayden, 10, jam and crackers because she had not topped up the cashless payments system used by some schools to handle dinner money transactions.

A spokeswoman for Luton Borough Council said the authority's catering policy was to 'ensure that no child goes without food at lunchtime' but added that parents were notified if they had outstanding debts.

The incident happened on Monday when Hayden was not given his normal lunch meal.

Mrs Woodcraft said she had forgotten to pay money into his account but claims she was not told her son would not be fed as a result.

She said: "I was then told by the headmaster that as soon as the money owed goes over £10, the school would not give him any food. I said to them if I had not given him any food all day and had just given him jam and crackers, then they would call social services.

"If I had been told I would have paid money straight away but I did not know that it had even gone over."

She added: "I have heard that all the teachers have complained about the policy but the council is not budging. I think it's absolutely outrageous."

"If they had called me and spoken to me I would have no problem but to do it without any contact with his parents?"

Luton Council said parents are sent two letters and called by staff if they have debts.

The spokeswoman said the policy is meant to stop 'significant numbers of previous occurrences of late payments and bad debts on school meals'.

Mrs Woodcraft, who paid the balance after speaking with the school on Tuesday, said: "They said that they gave him a letter."

"He said he had it but he is just a child and you know what kids are like."

A council spokeswoman said: "We are very sorry to hear what has happened to this child and apologise for any distress this may have caused."

"It is Luton Borough Council's catering policy to try to ensure that no child goes without food at lunchtime."

"In line with our policy two letters were issued to the parent via the school requesting payment for the outstanding debt, and as we did not receive a response, this was followed up with two phone calls."

"The policy is in place to prevent significant numbers of previous occurrences of late payments and bad debts on school meals, however, we will investigate further to see if the policy has been applied correctly and to determine if it needs revising, as we would not want to see a repeat of this type of incident."

She added: "We have received three enquiries from schools seeking clarification on the council's school meals service debt policy."

"Letters to parents regarding outstanding payments for school meals are sent out by individual kitchen managers, therefore we are unable to confirm how many children have stopped accessing school meals as a result of issues around debt."

"The Luton School Meals Service provides 19,000 meals each day and in the last 18 months we are only aware of one other issue of a child not being served a meal."

Surprising choice for mayor's number two

BY NICK SMITH
 nick.smith@lutononsunday.co.uk

TUESDAY saw a new mayor sworn in by Luton Borough Council, with a surprising choice for his number two in the coming year.

Cllr Dave Taylor has been elected as mayor, with Cllr Sameera Saleem taking up the role as deputy.

The positions have recently been filled by senior members of the council after several years of service, but Cllr Saleem will be taking on the role of deputy in her first term.

On his new deputy, who was awarded the position just 12 days after the election, Cllr Taylor said: "Despite this being her first term, I definitely think she's up to the job."

"Sameera's very able, very intelligent and I think she'll do very well in the role."

"I'm going to be giving her guidance along the way to help her learn the ropes but I have no doubts about her ability."

Cllr Taylor, a long-serving member of Luton Borough Council, was first elected in Dallow in 1987 and currently represents Dallow.

He grew up in the town, attending Ramridge Primary School and Stopsley Secondary School.

TAKING OFFICE: Mayor Dave Taylor and deputy mayor Sameera Saleem

Cllr Saleem, daughter of Cllr Raja Saleem, was elected in Leagrave Ward.

They will serve for the coming municipal year, replacing previous mayor, Mohammed Farooq, and his deputy Tahir Malik.

Cllr Taylor served as executive member for environment in the last council administration. He is a former chair of development control and chair of scrutiny.

On his election to the role, he said: "I'm pleased and very honoured to have been given this position. I am looking forward to working with a number of charities, the community and following in the footsteps of previous mayors of the town."

He has also announced that the mayor's charities for the year will be Autism Bedfordshire, Headway (South Bedfordshire) and Keech Hospice.

The pair will officially take their roles on Wednesday at the mayor making ceremony at the Town Hall.

We tried to reach Cllr Saleem for comment on her new role but she did not get back to us in time.

On the run teens are sniffed out by police tracker dog

A 15-YEAR-OLD boy has been charged with burglary offences and another 13-year-old boy has been released on bail after both of them were arrested during a search involving a police dog and a helicopter.

The operation took place in Houghton Regis in the early hours of last Saturday at just after 2am when police were called to Brentwood Close.

The officers had received reports that a group of four youths was acting suspiciously. They had run away from the area after being spotted by a member of the public.

An officer and a dog from the Bedfordshire, Cambridgeshire and Hertfordshire (BCH) Dog Unit were deployed to assist with the search, as well as the police helicopter.

The dog, called Otto, and his handler were first on scene and Otto tracked through a series of streets and alleyways for just under a mile before reaching Leaf Road, where three of the group were found.

A fourth person was seen running from the area and, once the three people detained were taken into custody by other officers, Otto was again tracking with his handler.

This time, Otto led his handler to a garden and, with assistance from the helicopter, quickly located the fourth person.

Following the arrests, a 14-year-old and a 19-year-old were released without charge.

The 15-year-old was charged with going equipped for burglary and the 13-year-old was bailed until June.

Sergeant Vicky Stoughton, from the BCH Dog Unit, said: "Day or night, our team is out and about across the three counties and happily assisting other officers with varying types of incidents."

newsbriefs*COUNCIL TAX BILLS RESENT

NEW council tax bills will be sent to residents following the referendum in which residents rejected an increase in the police portion of their bill.

The bills had been raised at the beginning of the financial year but will now be revised to reflect an increase of two per cent instead of the 15.84 proposed by the PCC.

DEODORANT SET OFF FIRE ALARM

FIREFIGHTERS were called out to a bizarre call this week involving deodorant fumes.

The fumes reportedly set off fire alarms at the Lea Manor recreation centre in Northwell Drive on Thursday morning.

Bedfordshire Fire and Rescue Service attended the incident but upon arrival were told it was a false alarm.

ANTI-SLAVERY BOSS IN LUTON

THE UK's anti-slavery commissioner Kevin Hyland attended a conference on human trafficking in Marsh Farm on Tuesday.

The event was aimed at highlighting the issue, which is often called a 'hidden crime'.

Human trafficking is said to be the second most profitable crime after drugs and has an annual value of around £20m.

ELDERLY MAN HAS CARD STOLEN

OFFICERS have said they want to trace two people after a bank card was stolen from a cash point in Stopsley.

An elderly man was using an ATM in Hitchin Road on April 27 when he was approached by a man and a woman.

They stole his card and it was used later that day to take out £250 at a shop in Hitchin Road.

Strike action derails

PLANNED strikes by rail workers have been called off after unions received an improved offer over pay.

Members of the RMT and TSSA unions had been due to stage a 24-hour strike tomorrow at 5pm, which would have caused widespread disruption.

Most services are expected to run as usual now the unions have made a deal with Network Rail, though some will still be affected by planned engineering work.

The proposed strike was called off on Thursday afternoon following four days of negotiations.

Manuel Cortes, general secretary of the TSSA rail union, said: "Our negotiating team at ACAS has received a revised offer from Network Rail.

"As a result of this, they have suspended the planned industrial action, pending the outcome of a meeting of our workplace representatives next week."

RMT general secretary Mick Cash said: "Following the ACAS talks, RMT has received a revised offer that enables us to suspend the planned industrial action while we consult in full with our Network Rail representatives."

The strike would have seen signallers, maintenance staff and station workers walk out, in the first national rail strike for 20 years.

Sign shunned by doubting locals

A TOUCH OF GLAM?: Lutonians are unimpressed with the new Hollywood-style fixture by the M1

BY NICK SMITH

nick.smith@lutononsunday.co.uk

RESIDENTS have mocked a new sign welcoming people to Luton calling it the 'most ridiculous thing they've ever seen'.

The banner, made out of stone chippings, has drawn criticism on social media since it opened last week.

On Twitter, Dave Witchalls was particularly dismissive, saying: "Who on earth thought a massive 'Welcome to Luton' sign in one of the mounds created as part of the new layout was a good idea?"

His view was shared by Simon Parker, who said:

"The 'Welcome to Luton' made out of tarmac sign is the most ridiculous thing I have seen."

Roger Hadrell was quick to point out a flaw in the design, tweeting about the wonky letters, as the C and M are off kilter but he also saw the funny side, saying that it almost looks like the Hollywood sign, 'if you squint'.

The new project was delivered as part of the regeneration works to Junction 10A of the M1, which is part of Luton Borough Council's £30m improvement scheme.

The work was undertaken to improve journey times, going into the south of the town.

A spokesman for Luton Borough Council said: "The new Welcome to Luton sign was completed around a week or so ago as part of the work on M1 junction 10A improvements to welcome visitors to Luton."

"The lettering is also visible from some of the planes coming into Luton Airport." The council was unable to confirm the cost, as it comes under the M1 Junction 10A renovation project.

UNHAPPY BUNCH: Residents of Turnpike Drive are opposed to a new development being proposed in their area as they say it will impact on an area of outstanding natural beauty and local amenities

Anger over green light for housing

BY CARL MUNGAZI

carl.mungazi@lutononsunday.co.uk

COUNCILLORS have agreed to the building of a controversial housing development which has been heavily opposed by residents.

Clarence Country Homes wants to build 19 houses in Turnpike Drive, Bramingham, an area close to the Chiltern Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty.

Luton Borough Council received a petition of 311 signatures against the scheme, along with 130 letters of representations.

Caroline Collins, a resident in the area, said she was concerned about how the development would affect the local environment.

She said: "It's a loss of an area of local landscape value and greenbelt land. There's a detrimental impact upon residential amenities."

"It fails to respect and enhance the character of the other buildings on the estate and the views, combined with the unacceptable visual impact on surrounding countryside and the loss of a safe pedestrian right of way."

Councillor Mahmood Hussain, one of those who voted for the proposals, said he had been one of the residents who moved into the first Turnpike Drive development when it was opposed by Warden Hill residents in the 1970s.

He said: "I lived there for a few years and then came the Barton Hills development, and that was opposed by people in Turnpike Drive who didn't want it because it would have increased traffic and caused all the other things that the people in Turnpike Drive didn't want."

"So any development that does happen will have opposition."

Domino's granted an extra pizza the action

FAST food outlet Domino's has been given permission to open a new store, following a planning meeting this week.

At Thursday's development control committee meeting, councillors voted to allow the pizza chain to turn a shop in Wigmore Lane into a property able to sell takeaway food.

The property is currently subdivided into a shop and laundrette but will now have a cold room compressor and extract fan installed.

At the meeting, concerns were raised by residents over the number of takeaways already in the area and the possibility of an increase of traffic and congestion. The council had received six letters of objection.

However, members were broadly in agreement with the scheme.

Waiting game for Autoglass repairs

BY CARL MUNGAZI

carl.mungazi@lutononsunday.co.uk

A MAN has been waiting for more than two weeks to have his car window fixed after it became stuck following a previous repair has said he is 'getting nowhere'.

Cyril Wells, 80, of Wellhouse Close, Luton, said he has been unable to secure an appointment with Autoglass to fix a problem which developed after they repaired a cracked rear window on his red Vauxhall Agila.

The glass was fixed on May 6 but Mr Wells said it has been stuck since then.

Autoglass has issued an apology and said they are working to 'schedule the repair as soon as possible'.

Mr Wells said: "This has been going on for about three weeks. They kept promising me that they will get the new part from Vauxhall but when I called them, they said they were still waiting for the part to come.

"So I waited and waited and when I called them up again the fellow said the part had gone astray but I did not for one moment believe that they were being straight with me."

He added: "I had the window replaced because it was cracked and I had to pay £90 upfront. Before he started the job the window was going up and down with the crack in it. After he did it I tried but it did not go up or down."

A spokeswoman for Autoglass said: "We regret to learn that Mr Wells had an unsatisfactory experience having his window repaired with Autoglass and apologise for any inconvenience this has caused. We can confirm that the part needed to resolve the issue with the customer's window is on order and is due to arrive on May 29.

"We are liaising with the customer to schedule the repair as soon as possible.

"Autoglass is a business with customer service at its heart and we always strive to offer the best possible service."

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director Tom Bliss feels that it's all about service. "Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 10 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done. We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole."

Cloudy2Clear service the Luton, Dunstable and Stevenage areas and Tom is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success.

"The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated."

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Tom a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

The party's over as Liquid closes doors

BY NICK SMITH

nick.smith@lutononsunday.co.uk

A TOWN centre nightclub will shut for the final time next weekend.

Liquid and Envy, based in Gordon Street, Luton, has announced that it will soon be shutting its doors due to a fall in the number of people going there for nights out.

The soon to be closed club currently employs 30 people.

A spokeswoman from the Deltic Group, formerly Luminar, which owns the club said: "Following a long-term decline in footfall in the town centre, we have taken the difficult decision to close Liquid and Envy."

"We would like to thank all our employees, who have worked so hard in tough operating conditions to provide our loyal customers with a fun, safe and great value night out."

"We are currently consulting with our team about future opportunities."

This follows the closure of another night club, Chicago's, back in 2013 - meaning that two clubs in Gordon Street have now shut their doors in the last two years.

DARK DAYS: Liquid and Envy in Gordon Street, Luton, is to close its doors for the final time as the company's owners 'change direction'

The nightlife company Deltic has announced the decision to close alongside a national rebranding and a subsequent change in direction, which will see it try to expand into other entertainment ventures.

READERS' MEMORIES OF LIQUID:

- Always being shocked at the price of the entry fee... but being so inebriated that you paid it anyway.
- Entering the club with a group of people, then inexplicably losing every single one of them after five minutes. That place was like a black hole.
- That spiral staircase. The Mount Everest of staircases. Every girl wearing heels took their turn at falling down to a raucous chorus of 'she fell over' from a group of lads. It was how the ladies of Luton earned their stripes.

Could you foster or adopt Luton children?

We are looking for families to provide homes for children and siblings from all backgrounds, cultures and ages.

Long live the brilliant library

I SIGNED up for a library card recently, and how brilliant my life has been since.

I forgot what a wonderful world of learning and community I am able to access with this magnificent little card.

Thank goodness there are still people out there who appreciate the value of these places as the rest of the world moves online and away from human interaction.

Not only have I made new friends at the library, but have also been recommended books by staff and thoroughly enjoyed discussions with them.

Long live the library.

Learning by speeding mistakes

SPEED cameras nick you, convict you, and punish you all in one go.

You don't get the option of saying sorry. That's why most people see them as cash in the hand for the authorities.

The first time you get caught speeding, you should get a telling off.

The second time you get caught, you get fined and the points.

That way, you have been treated fair and must expect your punishment. Learn by your mistakes.

Fed up with on and off spring

IT'S on! It's off! It's on! It's off! It's on! It's off!

Excuse me for my rather unorthodox introduction but the weather of late has bamboozled me.

When are we going to get some nice weather?

I know most people reading this are shaking their head at my naivety but I head into each year hoping we will finally have a bit of consistency in our weather patterns. Is that too much to ask?

Just this week I left my house in my slippers when I was caught in a mini-hailstorm that almost divorced my toenails from my toes.

Okay, it may not have been that dramatic but still, I know spring brings with it a bit of rain, but this really is taking the chocolate digestive biscuit.

I suspect I will look a prize plum when this paper comes out and the sun is out in full glory.

But I don't mind, as long as I've had a chance to share my optimistic weather outlook with you all, then I will head down to Tesco in the next thunder shower a happy man.
Frank Dignot

Britain First on wrong foot

BRITAIN First seem to have little understanding of Luton.

We have a large Muslim community in Luton for sure, but there is no no-go zone for non-Muslims, and certainly not the mini-caliphate they claim.

The Muslim community have for years now been working closely with the police and council to deal with extremism, and as a church we have been totally supporting them in that.

Marches like this do not deal with extremism, they simply have the potential to stir up more trouble as the whole Luton community feel threatened and angered. We would sincerely challenge Britain First to speak to us before they make any more plans to disrupt our town and community.

Peter Adams

St Mary's Luton and with churches across the town

Police referendum a fiasco

HAVING read the article on the front page last week I at last realised that I had to comment on the whole referendum fiasco. If the situation regarding police in Bedfordshire really is as bad as it appears, why on earth hadn't we had all this publicity BEFORE the referendum instead of afterwards? I and probably many others felt inadequately informed, conned by the fact that the decision seemed to have been made already and taken for granted by someone that could not be fully trusted.

I hope that Mr Martins has now got the message and that he will do his best to sort things out in favour of Bedfordshire Police and the safety of our neighbourhoods.

Elizabeth Calvert

PCC's expensive bureaucracy

I HAVE to agree that the chances of the people of Bedfordshire voting for a 16 per cent rise in their council tax bills to fund extra police officers was about as likely as turkeys voting for Christmas!

Although I suspect the majority of people in North and Central Beds probably voted for it, it was a foregone conclusion that the people of Luton would vote against it.

There are two problems here.

The first is that Bedfordshire Police are funded as a rural force when in fact Luton should be funded as an inner city area.

The second is the amount of money wasted on Police and Crime Commissioners in the first place.

Most people thought that a PCC would be one person, not a very expensive further layer of overstuffed bureaucracy.

GP unconvinced by 7-day NHS proposal

BY CARL MUNGAZI

carl.mungazi@lutonsunday.co.uk

NOT enough detail has been given on plans to introduce a seven-day a week health service, a retired senior doctor has warned.

Dr Nina Hawking, a retired GP from Dunstable with 36 years of experience, said she was unsure proposals by the government to hire 5,000 GPs and deliver a seven-day NHS were 'sustainable'.

This week, prime minister David Cameron repeated his pre-election pledge to increase NHS budgets by at least £8bn a year by 2020 and change working patterns.

Dr Hawking said: "Like everybody, I would like to see a lot more detail as to how he intends to get to a seven-day a week service."

"I really would like to see any evidence anyone has that it is necessary and desirable, or that the patients want it."

"There is some fix on the idea that people turn up to the A&E because they cannot get appointments with their GP but there is absolutely no evidence to support this."

However, not all who have reacted to the prime minister's announcement have expressed doubts.

Margo Leftly, director of Bedford-based healthcare recruitment agency Healthier Recruitment Ltd, said permanent posts could help the NHS cut expenditure on agency staff. She said: "There is the idea that there are no staff. Yes, there are some shortages but in regard to highly skilled people such as GPs, there are candidates who out there who want longer term positions."

Right up your street

Look back at streets that once were

IN this week's edition, Howard Chandler looks at the streets which have disappeared.

Walked down Gillam Street lately? If not, you're out of luck because it no longer exists.

The ring road scheme that created a new highway between Old Bedford Road and Hitchin Road by the railway station resulted in the loss of a road that had existed since at least 1883, although with a change of name.

Ashton Street in High Town was often confused with Ashton Road, off London Road, much to the annoyance of local traders.

Ken Cooper writes in his book 'Luton: Scene Again' that a Wesleyan Mission was founded in Ashton Street in 1883. In 1928, Ashton Street was renamed after the leader of the Mission, James Gillam, a man so respected for his good works.

It is not that unusual for roads to be redeveloped or renamed. Senior Lutonians may remember Smart Street, now part of the Crawley Green Road roundabout, or Clyde Road, demolished for the M1 J11 slip road.

I've listed the 100 or so 'vanished' streets on my website lutonstreetsnames.co.uk

Katie smiles again with her first book

BY CARL MUNGAZI

carl.mungazi@lutononsunday.co.uk

A TEENAGER with a rare undiagnosed muscle weakness tells how the process of writing has given her a new perspective on life through the pages of her first book.

Katie Ann-Burke, 19, from Welywn Garden City, said she has been looking back on her 'amazing childhood' and wishing she had been 'nicer to the people in my primary school'.

She has been receiving support from Keech Hospice to help her publish an autobiography she began writing four years ago.

Her disability, which affects all the muscles in her body, began manifesting itself when she was nine. It limits the activities she can do without assistance.

She said: "I can't smile so everyone thinks I'm miserable 24/7. It affects me in so many ways."

"I can't express how much it affects me, no-one will truly understand until they've experienced it first hand."

Katie was referred to Keech when she was 15 and it was there that nurse Jackie Purdy contacted publishers Pegasus Elliot Mackenzie.

Katie said: "I wrote it because my sister, my mum and I were discussing different jobs me and my sister could have and it suddenly dawned on me that there were very few jobs I could do without help, and typing is one of the only things I can do without assistance."

"It's made me look back and realise what an amazing childhood I had."

"It's made me wish I'd been nicer to the people in my primary school because, now that I'm out of school, I realise how awesome they were. The book is going to be a realistic view of how it feels to be disabled, my experiences."

"I hope people will realise how lucky they are to have strong muscles."

The book's publication date is yet to be decided.

Heroic efforts at race

POPSTAR Harry Judd joined hundreds of Keech Hospice supporters for the charity's Superhero 5k race last Sunday.

More than 200 runners took part in the third Superhero fun run to raise much needed funds for the hospice, which looks after children in Bedfordshire, Hertfordshire and Milton Keynes.

Harry said: "Events like this Superhero 5k are so much fun – it's great to be a part of the community. It's such a positive vibe."

10 years in jail for kidnapping ordeal

BY JULIA SUTTON
editor@lsmmedia.co.uk

A LUTON man has been sentenced to 10 years in prison after kidnapping a man and driving him to a cashpoint.

Leslie DeRoses, 51, of Dunstable Road, Luton, pleaded guilty to one count of burglary, one of robbery, and one of kidnap.

On 14 March, DeRoses broke into a house in Luton and demanded money from the elderly victim.

He then forced the victim to drive to cashpoints at Luton Parkway Station and Santander in George Street in an attempt to obtain money from his account.

Detective Constable Alan

Boxall said: "This was a horrific and despicable crime and we're delighted with the sentence that DeRoses has received."

"He preyed on a vulnerable, elderly person, putting him through a terrifying ordeal."

"We're really grateful to the people who came forward and are pleased that justice has been done."

"By taking callous criminals such as DeRoses off the streets of Bedfordshire, we really are helping to protect people and fight crime together."

DeRoses was sentenced on Friday, May 15 at Luton Crown Court.

Man is found guilty of table leg attack

A MAN who used a wooden table leg to knock out a neighbour's partner in the communal area of their flats was convicted on Thursday of causing actual bodily harm to him.

Anthony Jefferson, 54, came out of his ground floor flat to strike Lee Williams, who had earlier banged on his door and window, Luton Crown Court was told.

Mr Williams said the wood flew towards his face and the next thing he remembered was being in hospital.

Mr Jefferson, of Mountview

Avenue, Dunstable, pleaded not guilty to causing actual bodily harm to Lee Williams on October 4 last year, but was convicted.

He was granted bail for pre-sentence reports to be prepared and will be sentenced on July 17.

KICKING THINGS OFF: Work has started on new housing

Construction of new housing starts

WORK has begun on an affordable-housing development in High Town. Thirty-two one-bedroom and 48 two-bedroom flats will be built on the site. Cllr Tom Shaw, Portfolio Holder for housing, said: "It's no secret that Luton has a severe shortage of affordable housing, so this is wonderful news for the whole town, particularly the families who so desperately need them." The homes are expected to be completed by September 2016.

Police dog hunts down men on run

BY CARL MUNGAZI

carl.mungazi@lutononsunday.co.uk

FOUR people were arrested at a service station this week on suspicion of immigration offences after an incident on the M1.

At 7am on Tuesday, police were called to the Toddington service station on the M1 northbound following a report that a group of people had jumped from the back of a parked lorry.

Officers attended the location and a group of people ran away from the area.

An officer and dog from the Beds, Cambs and Herts Dog Unit were deployed to assist with the search for the people, as well as the police helicopter.

Police Dog Kane was used and was soon tracking, leading his handler, PC Graham Ashby, from the forecourt of the service station and into a nearby field. The pair then crossed a small river, entered a second field and went through bushes before reaching the bank of another river.

Kane tracked three men who were quickly detained without incident. A fourth person ran, entered the river and crossed to the other side before Kane also located them.

PC Ashby said: "It's an absolute pleasure to work with Kane and, although he is our oldest dog, he still has an excellent nose and brilliant agility. We work together extremely well."

Far-right: 'Stop targeting Luton'

IN six months, I saw three street protests in Luton.

Two of these marches were led by the EDL, apparently with the aim of dividing the community and targeting a particular group.

Another far right group, Britain First, has now announced it will take to the streets of Luton for a demonstration on June 27.

The group claims to be marching in protest at the 'hotbed for Islamic extremism' Luton has become.

Britain First's deputy leader, Jayda Fransen described the town as an 'Islamic ghetto where non-Muslims now feel intimidated to go'.

But is this Luton?

For most community leaders, the answer is simple: no, it is not.

Reverend Mike Jones, of St Mary's Church said: "Britain First regularly claim to be defending Christian Britain."

"The hate-filled atmosphere on these marches doesn't represent the religion, or churches in Luton."

"As Christians we want to share our faith, but we're also called to love our neighbour, and live at peace with them.

"Britain First seem to have a very different approach."

Last year, members of the group carried out a series of 'mosque invasions', where they stormed places of worship to hand out bibles.

"This is Great Britain," Fransen says, "this is a Christian country and we want Islamic extremists out."

But Peter Adams, who is based at St Mary's and works with interfaith groups across Luton, said this attitude is not shared or endorsed by the vast majority of residents. He added: "It attracts negative attention to the town and it's provoking a lot of anger among the people."

"The EDL is divided and their local power base has gone."

"At last November's there were very few people from Luton and on New Year's Eve, none of the 12 were from the town."

So why does Luton continue to be the focus for such divisive far-right politics?

Dawood Masood, founder & CEO of Quba Trust, an inter-faith youth group in Luton, believes there is a lack of understanding at the core of these groups.

He added: "As a proud young Lutonian it does worry me that an organisation that has previously been known to disrupt and barge in to local faith institutions is intending to come and cause more anxiety into our town.

"I believe the hatred Britain First have for the Muslims and Islam is born out of ignorance and lack of interaction with real, decent, normal Muslims."

Luton is a place of great diversity, and Peter Adams believes the job of interfaith

- who promote an understanding of all faiths and religions - is more important than ever.

He said: "One has to hope that the sentiment these groups spread has dissipated in the town, but of course that could change."

"Last year with their mosque invasions, how they just walked in, it showed how vulnerable people can be to groups like these."

I said I saw three marches in six months: two were conducted by the EDL. The other was the March for Justice - held in January of this year - which saw people of all faiths and backgrounds united under one banner.

In September, Lewsey Farm will stand still for Luton Council of Faiths' annual Peace Walk.

Isn't this what we want Luton to be about?

Bringing communities together, instead of looking to divide them.

National Smile Month 2015

Smile! It's National Smile Month

National Smile Month is the UK's largest annual oral health campaign. Organised by leading oral health charity, the British Dental Health Foundation, and running from 18 May to 18 June, you'll find these three key messages at the heart of the campaign:

- Brush your teeth for two minutes twice a day using a fluoride toothpaste.
- Cut down on how often you have sugary foods and drinks.
- Visit the dentist regularly, as often as they recommend.

The aim of National Smile Month is to ultimately improve the UK's oral health. The campaign hopes to raise awareness of important health issues, and make a positive difference to the oral health of millions of people throughout the United Kingdom.

With the help and enthusiasm of those who are passionate about health and wellbeing, National Smile Month 2015 will see hundreds of events and activities up and down the UK educate and engage local communities about the importance of a healthy mouth.

In 2015, the campaign will take place between May 18 and June 18, and will encourage all dental and health professionals, schools, pharmacies, community groups, colleges and workplaces – in fact anyone with an interest in good oral healthcare, to join in and help us educate, motivate and communicate positive oral health messages and improve the quality of smiles all around the UK.

But National Smile Month isn't just about education and stressing the importance of a healthy mouth – the key to the success of the campaign is that we have lots of fun doing it!

National Smile Month 2015

Our Oral Health

A healthy smile can be a great asset.

Not only can it benefit us socially and help us in other things such as our careers and relationships, but it also has many more practical benefits.

Our teeth have such an important role to play in our lives. They help us chew and digest food, they help us to talk and speak clearly and they also give our face its shape.

Because of this, it makes sense to give our oral health the best care possible. National Smile Month is our chance to take a look at our oral health, learn more about why a healthy smile is so important and share tips on how to improve and maintain it.

These messages provide a good starting point for us but there's so much more we can learn.

Let's be honest, maintaining a general level of good oral health is a fairly simple task. It's not time consuming or costly, yet many of us still choose to ignore the most basic day-to-day hygiene routines.

A staggering number of us brush for less than two minutes, our diet as a nation has become over-reliant on added sugars while millions of us haven't seen a dentist in the last two years.

The consequences of these over a long period of time, can lead to unnecessary, invasive and expensive treatment. There are direct oral health problems that can arise such as gum disease and tooth decay while the repercussions of poor oral health go further than our mouth.

An increased risk of heart attacks, strokes, dementia, complications during pregnancy and male sexual health problems are just a few of the likely outcomes of not looking after our teeth.

Visit our Healthy Gums, Health Body page to learn more about the links between our oral health and general health.

So there we have it. The benefits of developing and maintaining a healthy mouth are clear for all of us to see, so are the dangers of an unhealthy mouth. Following the basic rules and adopting a sensible daily routine should be high on all our agendas. By using National Smile Month as an opportunity to prioritise our oral health, we will soon see what a remarkably positive difference it makes to many aspects of our lives.

No Hiding, just Smiling...

Established in 2000, Perfect Profiles' sole aim has been to offer patients affordable dental treatment. Our experienced group of dentists and surgeons work as a team to provide treatments from single implants to complicated restorations including bone grafting.

Implants to replace missing teeth are just £680 each (Without prosthetic) - up to 70% cheaper than some private clinics in the UK- meaning there's no need to wait to get smiling again! 1000's of patients have passed through our door after completing successful implant treatment ranging from replacing a single tooth right through to restoring complete smiles and replacing tired old ill-fitting dentures.

Not sure what you may need or how much treatment will cost? FREE Consultations!

We like to ensure that you have all of the required information prior to making any decision about what treatment options you have including timelines and of course, costs. To assist you in this, Perfect Profiles offer initial consultations completely FREE!

matching scheme on our most popular treatments to give our patients further peace of mind (full details of this can be found on our website- www.perfectdental.eu.com).

If you've lost a tooth, you're losing more than a smile...

As soon as a tooth is lost, bone in that area will begin to resorb. Over time, this can lead to significant bone loss in the area weakening surrounding teeth and increasing the costs for reparative treatment. Dental implants osseointegrate with the bone where a tooth has been lost meaning that bone resorption doesn't occur as it would if the tooth is not replaced.

Single Implant

- To replace 1 missing tooth on upper/lower jaw
- No damage to neighbouring teeth
- Screw retained or cement retained crown
- Tooth coloured crown (To match surrounding teeth)
- Porcelain bonded to metal crown or Zirconium crown options available
- 4-6 months healing time after implant is placed

- ① Implant placed into the bone where the tooth is missing lower right pre-molar
- ② Abutment screwed into implant
- ③ Arrow shows how the crown will be cemented on top of the abutment

Complete single tooth restoration (including crown) starts from £925. Call Perfect Profiles today to book your free consultation and learn more about restoring your smile! Full and partial restorations using implants are also available from our highly experienced team who have placed over 20,000 implants between them!

Skeletons will rattle things up in empty unit

ART

REFLEX

The Mall

May 30-31, 10-5pm

THE second instalment of The Midas Touch's (TMT) visual arts programme brings London-based sculptors Shaun Doyle and Mally Mallinson into one of the town centre's empty retail units.

Thanks to funding from Arts Council England and Luton Borough Council, TMT's creative director Kerry Campbell is holding an exhibition called REFLEX as part of TMT's bid to make more use of existing spaces in Luton.

The two-day event will be held within an empty retail unit in The Mall next to the Marks &

Spencer store and will feature large sculptures ranging from modified skeletons to Wendy's Squat, a piece on the housing crisis facing the UK.

The sculptors' work has references from religion, form and function and cultural re-appropriation, as well as containing some politically charged work.

Shaun said: "Our work does tend to have a lot of political comment and I think that's why Kerry invited us to do this. I think there's always an element of humour in what we do so that we make it approachable."

"It's not too dumb to sit down but so that people can get into it and I hope that people who come to the show can get something out of it."

"We are going to put up six or seven pieces of work, so there will be plenty to look at."

The exhibition is the second stage of an eight months Arts Council funded project, which supports both local artists and artists from further afield, exploring the town's existing creative community and encouraging a wider recognition of Luton's contribution to contemporary art.

The collages and prints on show have been billed as 'the results of a deliberate regression, they are tabloid/plebian expressions of our suspicion of fashion, material gain and social power play.'

Dunstable band singin' the blues at The Bear Club

MUSIC

PAUL HEGLEY BAND

The Bear Club, Luton

Saturday, May 30, 7pm

WITH influences ranging from The Black Keys to blues pioneer Robert Johnson, the three piece Paul Hegley Band are holding a special gig at The Bear Club to celebrate the launch of their debut EP.

On recording the EP, frontman Paul Hegley said: "We recorded all the tracks reel to reel, with one take per instrument at an analog studio in London called The Cowshed."

"There's no playing around, you'll just hear what came out of the instruments."

The three piece have already earned plaudits from Classic Rock Magazine for their sound, but Mr Hegley seemed most excited for this EP release, saying:

"Everything we've done in the past has really been leading up to this."

"We've released stuff in the past for free, but this is the first time we've pressed and have got for people to buy and I can't wait to get it out there."

A Dunstable lad, Paul holds a special connection to the area and also to the venue, saying: "We were going to do this in London originally, but with The Bear Club opening its doors it made sense to have it there."

"We really like the venue and actually filmed the video for the EP's lead single there at a previous gig."

Tickets are £6, or £3 for club members. DJ Crazy Fish will warm up the crowd, dealing out some tunes on vinyl.

REVIEW

MAD MAX

Cinemas in Luton
All this week

LOUD, brash and non-stop, George Miller brings the post-apocalyptic franchise roaring back to life with relentless action and brutal characters.

The fourth outing in the Mad Max series sees Tom Hardy take on the iconic role of Max, a survivor in Australia who is captured by the War Boys loyal to cult leader Immortan Joe.

As Joe relentlessly pursues his renegade general, Imperator Furiosa, who has stolen a war rig to transport his prized five wives to safety, Max is strapped to the hood of War Boy Nux's car as the gang set out in hot pursuit.

Max soon escapes and reluctantly helps Furiosa in her quest to free the wives and get them to the green place that can offer protection and freedom.

What ensues over the next two hours is pure choreographed chaos in an exhilarating chase across the barren outback. Miller's well-oiled chase sequence rarely stops, pausing only to offer brief explanations before the onslaught continues.

ALL ACTION: While it was a flick packed with violence it had little else to offer

In fact, Fury Road has very little dialogue and relies heavily on stunning visuals, harsh characters and the odd stony glance from Hardy. It may sound confusing but Miller weaves stunts and special effects artfully together so you're left in no doubt who is fighting whom and for what motive.

Hardy does a fine job as Max, even if he is practically mute for most of the film, and is certainly 'mad' as he is tormented by night terrors and vivid hallucinations. He mumbles, grunts and has an intimidating presence as a man who has lost everything.

But does his performance beat Mel Gibson's? Probably not, but that's not entirely Hardy's fault given that the character was written better in Road Warrior with a little dark humour and personality, plus he spoke more than just a dozen words.

Miller shifts our focus to the female characters with Charlize Theron in the strong leading role as Furiosa. Character connections only develop when Max meets Furiosa, who doesn't trust men and isn't afraid to fight dirty.

Theron's performance is extraordinary as her hardened front is dented only by slight moments of grief, with one exceptional moment when she sinks to her knees in despair. Miller isn't afraid to make this a female orientated film: Furiosa and the wives fleeing male oppression, seeking out the 'green place of many mothers', the concept of breeders and the slightest hints of romance.

But you could be forgiven if you questioned why this film wasn't called 'Imperator Furiosa' given how Max is side-lined in the first act. It's clear from the haphazard and vague plot that Miller is only interested in throwing you straight into the action and leaves you to figure out the story later.

Ultimately the writing lets this film down. It would have been great to see Max's character develop beyond the occasional confusing flashback and he definitely should have entered the action much earlier on.

LOCAL WORLD

What is the crucial element your agency needs to be successful?

Calls to value a property...

What is the main reason a person makes 'That Call?'

Branding...

Within the property sector we know the importance of brand, brand message and brand exposure has on the decision making process of a perspective vendor or landlord.

Be it 'Direct' or 'Subliminal', branding is the key driver for potential customers when deciding which 3 agents (The national average) they call to appraise their property.

We also know that regardless of your political view point the Conservative majority victory last week and the eradication of a 'New' coalition will bring stability and confidence to the market.

Julian Berry | 07800 534395 | julian.berry@localworld.co.uk

This will undoubtedly result in an increase of new instructions entering the market.

It is now imperative to put your brand in front of as many of these perspective clients as possible so you can benefit from this very welcome late spring uplift to the market.

How can we help?

At Luton on Sunday we have a substantial array of Traditional Online, Social Media and Offline Print products to promote your brand, both creatively and as you can see from our audience statistics, reaching the widest possible audience of 'Active' customers prior to them making 'that call'.

Our team here are experts in digital and print marketing and will be able to advise and partner with you to plan a campaign to fully utilise this opportunity.

MOTORING NEWS

Introducing the new BMW 3 series saloon and tourer

The BMW 3 Series has been a sales phenomenon, with 14 million cars sold since production began with the E21 model in 1975. During that time the model has defined the premium sports saloon segment with today around a quarter of all BMWs sold coming from the 3 Series range.

The new 3 Series Saloon and Touring models receive a subtle evolution to their front and rear styling, with new materials and highlights introduced to the interior to even further boost the sporting yet comfortable ambience.

Under the bonnet, the majority of engines are completely new and hail from the latest modular BMW EfficientDynamics engine family, with standout models such as the new three-cylinder 318i, the 326hp 340i, the 99g/km 320dED and the 335d with 630Nm of torque. With further advancements to gearboxes, chassis dynamics and personalisation options, plus a huge array of advanced technology such as the new optional BMW Professional Navigation, the new BMW 3 Series is better equipped than ever before to continue the legend.

SALES PHENOMENON: 14 million BMW cars sold since production began

The new BMW 3 Series has a strikingly attractive presence on the road. The distinctively sculpted long bonnet and setback passenger compartment combine with short front and rear overhangs, and a long wheelbase, to create the familiar dynamic proportions of a BMW. In its own way, these are as much a hallmark of a BMW as the perfect 50:50 weight distribution.

Revised headlights include optional LED units with LED indicators now positioned as "eyebrows" above the headlights. These full-LED headlights, which are even more efficient than the xenon headlights offered to date, work with the optional BMW Selective Beam system. The camera-based, anti-dazzle High Beam Assistant adjusts the car's lights using actuators to ensure the road is illuminated as well as possible without dazzling oncoming traffic and vehicles travelling ahead.

The new BMW 3 Series Saloon and Touring ranges feature a total of four petrol engines and seven diesel engines. Overall, customers can choose from a total of 16 exterior colours with the new BMW 3 Series Saloon and Touring models which go on sale in July. Prices will be announced at a later date.

COVERCAR

Vauxhall ADAM Take a look inside . . .

The Vauxhall ADAM Rocks Air is a car that doesn't take itself too seriously and is the perfect antidote to the usual boring superminis. With jacked-up body styling and a sliding soft top roof, this car is at its best with the turbocharged 1.0-litre three-cylinder engine.

The ADAM Rocks Air is available with a choice of three engines. The 70PS 1.2-litre engine and the 87PS 1.4-litre engine we've seen before and very serviceable units they are. Of more interest is the introduction of a 1.0-litre three-cylinder powerplant, good for 115PS thanks to its turbocharger.

It's the first Vauxhall to get this engine, which is the mainstay of the fourth generation Corsa range. When plumbed into the open-topped ADAM, it's capable of getting to 62mph in under 10 seconds.

Unlike most three-cylinder units, it's been designed to offer excellent refinement, with the characteristic warble of a three-pot only really audible when you mash the throttle. With 170Nm available at just 1,800rpm, it's a more relaxing engine than you'd imagine, albeit with a slightly elastic feel to the throttle response.

As car enthusiasts, we tend to be drawn towards all that is authentic and worthy and have a healthy scepticism for anything that looks like marketing puff. On that basis, we ought to abhor the Vauxhall ADAM Rocks Air. Nobody needs a convertible that plays at being a 4x4 supermini. It appears to be the work of a rather desperate marketing department playing catch up. Despite these initial suspicions, the car emerges as something surprisingly likeable. Don't take it too seriously and it's a vehicle that has a lot going for it. It looks interesting, it's well equipped and that 1.0-litre engine is a belter.

Perhaps at times we're guilty of overanalysing: taking things a little too seriously. The Vauxhall ADAM Rocks Air is the perfect antidote to this tendency. It's a car that wryly pokes fun of the typical car anorak. Life's serious enough as it is. If we all bought on rational grounds, we'd probably all be driving Golfs. Here's a car that celebrates a little irrationality. More power to it.

RELEASED: Shaun Whalley

Hatters confirm departures of three suspended players

HATTERS

LUTON Town have confirmed the departures of Ricky Miller, Shaun Whalley and Danny Fitzsimons – all players who had previously been suspended by the club.

Striker Miller and winger Whalley were both arrested following an alleged assault in Hockliffe last month and are currently on bail until June 2.

Miller has had his contract terminated, subject to appeal, following an internal investigation into a breach of club discipline, whereas Whalley departs by mutual consent.

Fitzsimons also leaves by mutual consent and was suspended due to a separate breach of club discipline which the Hatters have not elaborated on.

Miller, 26, signed from Boston United in the summer and made 12 appearances for Luton in all – ten from the bench – and scored twice against Newport County and Tranmere.

Luton have said they will make no further comment on his release.

Twenty-seven-year-old Whalley arrived from Southport in the summer of 2013 and was part of the Conference winning team, scoring five goals in 27 matches.

Defender Fitzsimons, 23, failed to make an appearance for Luton after joining from Histon in June 2013. He suffered a serious cruciate ligament injury and had to make do with loan spells at Brackley and Bishop's Cleeve.

County host Norfolk to start three day campaign

CRICKET

BEDFORDSHIRE begin their first three day game of the season at home to Norfolk today and will be looking for better things in this year's MCCA Unicorns Championship.

The county failed to win any of their matches last year as they finished second from bottom in the Eastern Division, only above Northumberland.

This was the same position they finished in 2012 and 2013 – also after winless campaigns – and they lost five out of their six matches in 2011 to finish bottom.

Beds' last Minor Counties victory in the longest form of the game came back in June 2010 when they beat Staffordshire by eight wickets on their way to finishing fourth.

Today's game begins at 11 am at Luton Town & Indians Cricket Club, pictured, and offers an opportunity for revenge as Norfolk beat Bedfordshire in their final pool match in the one-day Unicorns Knock-Out Trophy earlier this month.

That defeat ended any chances the county had of making the quarter finals so they will be keen to get off to a strong start today.

Bedfordshire do benefit from shorter journeys this season with away games scheduled at relatively local counties Hertfordshire, Buckinghamshire and Suffolk.

In addition to Norfolk, they will also host Cumberland and Northumberland at Bedford School and Luton Town & Indians respectively.

The season was difficult to take

HATTERS

BY JACK HOLLANDS
sport@lntmedia.co.uk

Hatters supporter Jack Hollands reflects on an up-and-down first season back in the Football League for Luton Town.

TOWN'S first season back in League Two since 2009/10 was always going to be an emotional one.

Two play-off final heartbreaks and a lowest ever finish in our history was now all forgotten due to a phenomenal season that saw the Hatters crowned as Conference champions and promoted back into the Football League.

I wanted to take a look back through some highs and lows supporters have experienced during our first season back.

What better place to start than our first game back, and could we have been given a longer trip? Geographically not.

A magnificent 1,088 Hatters made the 550 plus mile round trip up to Brunton Park, home of Carlisle United Football Club.

They saw Luton pick up their first three points of the season courtesy of a first half strike from Mark Cullen.

It was a beautiful day and the thousand-plus Hatters were basked in sunshine. It was a sea of orange and white in that corner of the ground and my word it erupted when Cullen poked home from just a few yards out.

We managed to see the game out, although I'm not sure how as chance after chance was left squandered by Carlisle.

But that was it – 90 minutes were up – and the final whistle went. Cue 'Luton Are Back' songs all the way home.

What followed were some really tough results to take, a run of six straight games including four at home which went by without a win. Was this league going to be as easy as we first thought?

A packed Kenilworth Road saw us go down 1-0 to AFC Wimbledon. A summer target of Luton's that year, Matt Tubbs, scoring the game's only goal.

The defeat was especially hard to take after what had been geared up to be our time back on the 'big stage'.

We battled bravely but just couldn't find the cutting edge we needed. However, what meant more to me that day was the 2-300 or so Hatters that stayed behind a good half-an-hour after the final whistle, singing their hearts out for their heroes who had just been beaten.

Draws against Bury and Accrington, as well as defeats at the hands of Shrewsbury and Plymouth, followed.

Then, as if from nowhere, something within the team just seemed to 'click'. I remember John Still saying in his press conference after the 0-0 draw away to York that he'd seen something change that evening, a platform to build on, and he wasn't wrong.

Eleven games unbeaten saw us go into the end of November top of the table. So what were my personal highlights during this remarkable run of results?

One was the game at the Lamex Stadium at the beginning of October. Need I say more? With the rivalry ever increasing between Luton and Stevenage it was always going to be a fiercely contested game, it always is when you come up against a Graham Westley side.

Luke Wilkinson nodded us in front on the ten minute mark, and Stevenage then equalised through Tom Pett.

Luton needed a hero going into the final ten minutes of that game and John Still looked to the bench. Step forward Alex Wall.

Coming on as an 83rd minute substitute he grabbed the winner with almost his first touch and it was bedlam in the away end (and some parts of the home end). It's always nice to get one over your neighbours.

Then there was Luke Guttridge's winner against Northampton. In a game where little goalmouth action was to be had, our mid-field dynamo and 'super-sub' that day popped up with the winner with just a couple of minutes to spare.

In front of a packed Kenilworth Road it was a dogged display from both teams, the ball spending a lot of the time in the mid-field areas and there was not a great deal of forward play.

Then, with just a few minutes left on the clock, Andy Drury managed to win the ball on the edge of the Northampton box, there was a Michael Harriman flick on and Guts was waiting at the back post to tuck it away from close range – euphoria. We knew with that win we'd go top of the league and what a way to do it.

After that run of 11 consecutive league games without defeat it all went a bit wrong, didn't it?

With injuries to Paul Benson, Pelly Ruddock Mpanzu, Nathan

Doyle and Mark Tyler, as well as suspensions being served by Luke Wilkinson and Steve McNulty, we essentially lost the spine of our team and it showed.

After the Boxing Day draw at Wycombe, a draw which I am sure we would have all taken on the day, things got worse rather than better.

Two wins from seven games saw us go into mid-February still in with a very good shout at the play-offs, but we could never find the momentum that we had at the beginning of the season.

Some people say too many loan players were brought in and others will say it's because of the injuries and suspensions.

I believe it was a mixture of both, there was no pattern to the team and it got to the point where you couldn't predict who would be playing from one week to the next.

March 2015 is a month in the calendar that all Hatters fans will want to forget about.

Six games, zero points, including that horror own-goal against Morecambe by Luke Wilkinson.

It was a month that more or less saw our play-off aspirations fall apart but we still had faith, even going into late April, that it was a possibility.

Our support at Southend has always been fantastic and this year was no different, however it wasn't enough to get us over the line and get us the vital point we needed.

It was a difficult season to assess in truth. A lot of Luton fans I am sure would have taken eighth position at the start of the season but having shown so much promise at the beginning, it was difficult to take.

Barnfield West miss out in Reading after superb cup run

FOOTBALL

AFTER a gallant cup run, Luton school Barnfield West Academy's football team lost 3-0 to Cardinal Heenan School from Liverpool in the final of the English Schools' FA Under 14 PlayStation Schools' Cup.

Staged at Reading FC's Madejski Stadium, the damage was mostly done in the first half as after a closely fought first 20 minutes, Cardinal Heenan opened the scoring before Luca Connell doubled their lead with just three minutes to go in the first half.

Barnfield West did their best to fight back before Connell scored again in the 57th minute to put the game to bed and ensure it would be Cardinal Heenan who would get their hands on the trophy.

Despite the defeat, the team had a day to remember as they not only had the opportunity to play on the pitch at a professional stadium, but also have their pre-match team talk in the dressing room.

Pupils from Barnfield West who travelled in their numbers to cheer on from the stands also enjoyed the occasion as they were treated to PlayStation 4 gaming experiences, half-time crossbar challenges and prize giveaways.

The final was part of the PlayStation Schools' Cup Festival, which was the culmination of another season of a grassroots partnership between PlayStation and the ESFA.

Marriott is Town's first new arrival

HATTERS

BY JACK CRAWFORD
sport@lsmmedia.co.uk

HATTERS boss John Still admitted that he's had his eye on Jack Marriott for a while after the former Ipswich Town striker became Luton's first new signing of the summer.

The 20-year-old has penned a one year deal at Kenilworth Road with a view to a longer stay and is the first arrival as Still seeks to freshen up his squad for another crack at League Two glory.

Still told lutontown.co.uk: "Jack's quick, he's aggressive, he's had a bit of Football League experience and he's scored goals in the Conference."

"He's somebody we actually looked at bringing in on loan during the Conference title season but we decided against it as we had the firepower at the time."

"So naturally he's a player we've been looking at for a while – I actually first saw him playing for Ipswich reserves.

"And what I liked about him – putting goals to one side – was his attitude on the pitch. So we kept a close eye on him and when we knew something could be possible we've moved quickly."

Marriott was released by Ipswich at the end of the season to pave the way for his move to Kenilworth Road and has previously spent three goalscoring loan spells at Conference side Woking, as well as temporary stints in the Football League with Carlisle, Colchester and Gillingham.

He made his debut for Ipswich Reserves against Luton at 15 and made three appearances for their first team.

Marriott told Hatters player: "I've had two good seasons out on loan and learned a lot but now I'm ready to settle at a club where I've got a good chance to contribute to the team."

"I like to run in behind and threaten defences, hassle them and I don't give them a minute's peace, and I like to score goals, that is my main target. I pride myself on goalscoring."

SACKED: Ricky Miller had his Luton Town contract cancelled this week, while Shaun Whalley and Danny Fitzsimons were released by mutual consent. Full story on page 66.

Don't put your foot in it

It smells, is disgusting and it carries disease so make sure that your dog remains man's best friend and clean up after them.

Responsible dog owners dispose of their dog mess properly in a bin. There are sadly still a few owners who prefer to ignore what their pet is leaving behind on the streets, paths or parks. This is not only unpleasant, but also illegal and dangerous. Anyone in charge of a dog who does not clean up risks a £50 fixed penalty notice and a court appearance with a fine of up to £1,000.

The Council's dog warden service works with the SoLUTiONs partnership to help to tackle the problem.

Thoughtless dog owners
We're watching you!

9 out of 10 dog owners clean up after their dog.
Are you the one who doesn't?

Bag that poo, any rubbish bin will do

LUTON

KEEP
TIDY

Allowing your dog to mess on the street can be a serious health hazard. Dog faeces can cause a number of unpleasant illnesses such as toxocara canis - a parasite that is transmitted through swallowing worms or eggs from the faeces of an untreated dog.

Make sure that your dog has been treated with the appropriate tablets and make sure that you clean up all dog mess and dispose of it safely. Always wash your hands thoroughly afterwards and keep children away from dog faeces at all times.

Beware – man with a van

If someone offers to get rid of waste for you remember that it is your responsibility to make sure that they are authorised to do it. A man with a van may seem as if they are offering you a good deal, but you could end up paying a much higher price if you break the law.

The Council is concerned that a number of illegal waste carriers are targeting householders in Luton and in some cases intimidating them into paying them to remove waste. So make sure that if someone is providing this service for you that you check their details and that you stay within the law.

If in doubt call the Council's customer services on 01582 510333 or visit www.gov.uk/find-registered-waste-carrier

Don't encourage the rat race

Rats like to live where people live and can thrive on just a tiny amount of food or water each day. They will stay in any environment where they have easy access to food and scraps.

Luton's situation is no different to anywhere else in the country but we can all avoid accidentally encouraging them to live and multiply in our community.

If you are vigilant and follow these simple guidelines you will be making a real contribution to keeping our rat population under control.

If you need help or advice on pest control contact the Council on 01582 546814 or visit www.luton.gov.uk

Advertisement Feature

The Advice from the Council's pest control officers is:

- don't leave food in your house, garden street or park – keep your house and surrounding area clean and tidy
- dispose of rubbish properly – recycle as much as you can and take anything else to the tidy tip or call the home collection service
- seal gaps and cracks in your property – rats are experts at squeezing through tiny gaps
- put a cage on top of your sewer stack – this stops rats getting into your roof space
- ensure all manhole covers and breather pipes are in good repair
- replace broken air bricks – but don't block them as they provide essential air flow under the building
- feed birds sensibly – don't put out too much food or the vermin will finish it off - this applies to ducks in the park too.

What are the consequences?

The Council takes environmental crime seriously and will take action against irresponsible residents.

This is what happened to just some of the people who were caught:

Luton Magistrates Court fined a man £474 after pleading guilty to dumping a fence on council land.

A company director was convicted of failing to supply the correct documentation for waste that he disposed of and for burning waste on his premises. He was sentenced to a £1,900 fine and £1,180 costs.

Flytippers were fined almost £1,000 each for dumping unwanted soil at Wauluds Bank

A man was sentenced to a £200 fine, £400 costs and compensation order of £116 for illegally dumping waste in Bilton Way.

A man who pleaded guilty to flytipping waste at two Luton locations was sentenced to pay costs of £1,800 and given 120 hours of community work.

A man caught on CCTV flytipping furniture, rubble, carpet, tyres and sacks from his van was fined £1,263 alongside 220 hours of community service.

A woman with a van was convicted of flytipping in Arrow Close and fined more than £800.

A man was forced to pay £200 for failing to supply the correct documents for the waste on his vehicle
